NEWS FROM THE SOUTH,

Which Tells a Tangled Story About the Election,

And Leaves the Matter as Much in Doubt as Ever.

All Si'es of the Louisiana Muddle as Seen by Friends and Foes.

The Official Count in South Carolina Finished.

Hayes 600 Majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 .- A Columbia, South Carolina, dispatch says the counting is over, and Hayes has a majority of 600.

The lowest Hayes Elector has 150 votes over the highest Tilden Elector.

In Louisiann.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 .- A dispatch was received in official circles here this morning from Louisiana saying:

"Everything is all right here. There is no question at issue that can not be settled by law in favor of Hayes and

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18 -The Returning Board held its first regular session to-day, all present. Preliminary business was transacted. It was agreed to admit to all sessions five men from each

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18 .- The officers of the United States steamers Ossipee and Canonicas, at New Orleans. have instructions to assist the military in preserving the peace in case of disturbance in that city. The Ossipee has a full compliment of officers and men, while the Canonicas is only half manned, but reinforcements will be sent her if needed.

Complexion of the Next House. NEW YORK, Nov. 18 .- The Times says its latest dispatches leave the complexion of the House of Representatives 147 Democrats to 143 R publicans, with S seats vacant. It considers that there is a strong probability that when all elements of uncertainty are removed and returns completed, the assumed Democratic majority of 4 will be wiped out and the complexion of the next House will depend on the result of the New Hampshire election in March.

The Tribune Washington special says it is believed in military and naval circles that orders will soon be issued directing that preparations be made for he concentration of a sufficient force at Washington, to quiet all apprehension telt in the country of revolutionary demonstration occurring to interfere abstain from voting in his parish, with the counting of the Electoral vote or with the inauguration of the legally chosen President.

The Commercial has a Jacksonville special as follows: JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 17-10 P. M. -Returns from the Canvassing Boards at Tallahassee show a majority for Hayes and Stearns. The Democrats still claim the State, but it is conceded that they are losing hope and courage as witness the canvass. The result will probably be reached to-night.

NEW ORLHANS, Nov. 18-1 P. M .- Wade

Dr. Redfield, the Commercial special correspondent, sends the following: NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17 .- It is reported that Anderson, of the Returning Board, will resign. His friends urge him to, as they fear grave consequences to the Returning Board if the whole Radical ticket Itrning Board if the whole Radical ticket is counted in.

Several Northern Republicans visited the Custom-house to-day and had interviews with negroes from the "bull-dozed" parishes.

The Demograts already have affidavits from several hundred negroes in these parishes, swearing that they voted the Demogratic ticket freely and without constraint.

constraint. Investigation satisfies me that the Re-publicans have overdrawn the amount of intimidation in the disputed parishes, and I am not now sure that Hayes will have a majority if the Board acts with strict fairness and impartiality. There is talk of a compromise, giving the State to Hayes and the local Government to the Democrats. Kellogg is in consultation with Northern Republicans to-night.

The delegations from the North spend the assurance of an honest count and a conscientious report. There seems to be some misapprehension in the North be some misapprehension in the North as to the character and standing of the Returning Board. Two members are reputable and intelligent colored men; the other two are old citizons of Louisiana—Gen. Anderson and Gov. Wells. The former is a cousin of Gen. Robert Anderson, and of Larz Anderson, of Cincinnati. Both are highly respectable and prominent men. With the eyes of ten prominent statesmen from the North upon them, it is not likely, or bardly possible, that any wrong or hardly possible, that any wrong will be done. Witnesses are fleking in under guard, all ready to testify to the reign of terror and violence under which the vote of Louisiana was cast. If those voting places or parishes where a fair expression was prevented by intimida-tion and violence are excluded, there is lows: NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17 .- There can not be the slightest doubt in the mind of any honest man conversant with the facts that Louisiana voted Democratic at the Presidential election. The fact is that Presidential election. The fact is that the Democracy induced a large number of negroes to vote the Democratic ticket, and that is where the shoe pinches the Republican toe. Hence the fearful and Munchausen stories of intimidation that the beaten party is telling in order to afford the R-turning Board a chance to reject the Democratic parishes and give the vote of the State to Hayes. That there was a large negro vote cast for the Democrats is positive, for I myself have seen over five hundred affiliavits from negroes who certify that they so voted without fear or favor, bribery, intimida-tion, or hope of future reward.

The story of the massacre of twelve negroes at Monroe is discredited by United States Marshal Pitkin, who tells curred he would have been informed of it. He says that he does not believe that twelve must be the twelve must be twelve must be twelve must be the twelve must be twelve m me that if any such massacre had that twelve murders took place in the State at all on that day. By the way, State at all on that day. By the way, the Southern Republican Committee is terribly incensed at Pitkin for admitting that is not the way to talk if he wishes to help the Republican party. There is even talk of decapitating him for the offense. offense.

I had a long talk with Judge Charles McRea, of East Feliciana, to-night, East Feliciana is the parish in which the Republicans claim that so much intimidation and buil-dozing was practiced that they were only able to poil one vote in it. Judge McRea says that ne became aware of a Republican plot to abstain from voting in his parish. and its vote rejected before the election; and in a speech which he delivered in Jackson, Thursday before the election, he urged all Republicans, black and white, to vote just as they pleased. The Judge was the anti-bull-dozing candidate for District Judge, and beat the extremist candidate with ease. The parish is only twenty-five miles across, contains only twenty-five miles across, contains thirty large towns, Port Hudson, Clin-ton and Jackson, and United States troops were stationed at all these points within easy striking distance of any of the polls. A number of the prominent negroes of the parish, among them Aaron Robinson and Aaron Taylor, came out before the election and stated that they themselves at the polls as if they desired to do so but were alraid. On the morning of the election Captain Fuqua, a Democrat, believing that there were an Ramphilson little and the solution of the control of the solution Hampton sent the following dispatch to Senators Doolittle and Stevenson: "My majority is 1,200. The vote for Tilden is now being counted, but I can not give son and procured some, which he could not induce any of the Republicans to yote. The Democrats, fearful of the effect that the absence of Republicans to yote from the ballot-boxes would have, endeavored to get Republicans to yote from the ballot-boxes would have, endeavored to get Republicans to yote witten tickets or those cut out of Republicans to yote witten tickets or those cut out of Republicans to yote witten tickets or those cut out of Republicans to yote witten tickets or those cut out of Republicans to yote witten tickets or those cut out of Republicans to yote witten tickets or those cut out of Republicans to yote witten tickets or those cut out of Republicans. written tickets or those cut out of Republican newspapers, but the effort was in vain. The darkies had got their secret instructions, and they could not be persuaded or coaxed into voting. The Registrar of Elections left the parish several weeks before the election, and Judge McRea came down to New Orleans and tried to get Governor Kellogg to send the Registrar back to his duties. Though Kellogg promised to do so, he never kept his word. The above caused a loss of several hundred Democratic votes, and no man here has a legal right to a ballot unless he can show regularizing papers. None of the Commisright to a ballot unless he can show registration papers. None of the Commissioners of Election allege the alightest tumult or trouble on election day, yet this is one of the parishes whose votes will be rejected by the Returning Board. It appears that there was a split among the Republicans in the Fifth District of this State, consisting of the parishes of Iberville, Iberia, ot. Martin's, Concordia and West Baton Rouge, at the last election, and each faction ran a separate Electoral ticket. One of these tickets contained only the names of the separate Electoral ticket. One of these tickets contained only the names of the Electors-at-Large of the State and of the Elector for this District, omitting the names of the other five. The result was that five of the Republican Electors run nearly three thousand behind the vote of their party in the State, and this elects five of the Democratic Electors of the State in spite of fate. The Republicans are in despair over this discovery, and have sent for Mr. T. Ludeling, the Chief Justice of the State, to The Gazette special is as follows:
